

Gallia

Gallia is a niche tour operator, in the market since 1993, specialised in hotel and sailing holidays.

Where does the name Gallia come from ?

As the encyclopedia has it, Gallia or Gaul, among the Romans the name for the region bordered by the Alps, the Rhine, the Atlantic Ocean, the Pyrenees and the Mediterranean. In other words, present-day Belgium, France, Luxembourg and a part of the Netherlands and Germany. Right from the beginning in 1993 this was the region Gallia targeted.

Gallia concentrates on people who want a "holiday different from the rest". People who do not want to feel just another brick in the wall, either when booking their trip or during the trip itself. Gallia offers you a website crammed with hotels and ideas for a short break or for your main holiday, far from the mass tourist spots.

Our programmes include 3 to 4 star luxury hotels, from small to large, each with their own style and charm and this for the nearby destinations in Belgium, Luxemburg, Netherlands, Germany and France. Next to that Gallia offers a whole range of accomodation in the UK and Ireland from B&B's to manors or castle hotels. In Scandinavia we offer our clients good 3* hotelaccomodation.

You can call on Gallia for both a gastronomical weekend in Belgium, for a cartour nearby in England, Scotland, Ireland or in Canada or for a winter fun experience in Lapland, Greenland or Spitsbergen.

For a successful and exceptional holiday in Belgium, Holland, Luxembour, Germany, France, UK, Ireland, Scandinavia, Finland, Iceland, Greenland and Canada, Gallia is your best choice.

All trips to be found on this website can be booked through licensed travel agencies in Belgium or directly with Gallia. Prices are the same.

Our website is available in Dutch and in French.
